4 of 75 content pages have a real photo/cover in place today. Every other page already renders a code-generated placeholder - nothing is broken or blank on the live site.

Workflow: 1) Copy the prompt for a row into ChatGPT (image generation), ask for landscape/widescreen orientation. 2) Download the PNG and save it to public/images/ using the exact filename shown. 3) Tell Claude it's ready - it resizes to spec, converts to WebP, and wires it into the page. No need to worry about exact pixel dimensions or alt text.
